Common Man Inn To Host Friends Of The Arts Art Auction & Benefit Dinner

Plymouth, NH (February 1, 2008)- This year, for the first time, the annual Friends of the Arts Art Auction and Benefit Dinner will be held at the Common Man Inn in Plymouth, NH on Saturday, March 1st at 5:30pm.

“The Common Man’s wonderful generosity of its facilities and resources really takes a large share of the burden off our shoulders this year,” says Carole Ann Morrison, Executive Director of Friends of the Arts. “Plus, they have such a great history of hosting events and a top notch friendly staff. We’re tremendously excited.”

In previous years, the event was held at the dining hall at Holderness Prep School.

“I really want to thank Holderness Prep School,” continued Morrison, “for all the years they kindly allowed us to come in transform their facilities into an entire banquet and auction house. They were always wonderful to us.”

The Art Auction and Dinner features a tremendous variety of original art works, services from business, trips & vacations, and more items all for bid both via silent auction and a live auction. There’s also games of chance and grab bag items.
